'As for Jonathan Alexander, working in a team of two has transformed his creative vision: "Composing as a duo showed me how teamwork can elevate music by breaking the cliché of the solitary composer."

August 26, 2025, Oscar managed Jonathan directly
I had the pleasure of working with Jonathan at Inside the Score, where he played a key role in building the user experience for our composer training program. His role was uniquely multifaceted – combining coaching musicians with designing clean, intuitive webpages and user flows. He rose to the challenge with real excellence.
What stood out most was Jonathan's initiative. I would ask him to complete a task, and he would not only deliver it at a high standard, but also spot gaps and opportunities I hadn't even noticed, and improve them beyond what I could have achieved myself. He has a rare combination of design clarity, musical sensitivity, and kindness in working with students. The program is much stronger thanks to his contribution.
I would gladly work with Jonathan again in the future. He elevated the projects we worked on over 4 months together, and I recommend him wholeheartedly to anyone looking for a thoughtful, creative, and reliable teammate with a great eye for UX related detail, and a great ear for music and student coaching too!
